

5 FOLD PLAN TO TIGHTEN DRY ENFORCEMENT

PROPOSED BY BISHOP GANNON
OF M. E. CHURCHCHURCHMAN SPOKE IN NAME OF
2,600,000 MEMBERS OF
CHURCHSAYS WORK SHOULD BE CARRIED
ON BY THOSE BELIEVING DRY
LAW IS A GOOD LAWBy PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 19.—A five fold plan to have the federal government tighten enforcement of prohibition was laid before the senate investigation committee today by Bishop James Gannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

In the name of 2,600,000 members of his church, Bishop Gannon detailed evils of the liquor traffic and attacked existing efforts of the present enforcement agencies to stamp it out in certain wet sections including New York, New Jersey, Maryland and other damp states.

Bishop Gannon's plan was:
"1. To secure effective enforcement the work must be committed to those who believe that the prohibition law is a good law.

"2. It is also insisted that adequate salaries should be paid to secure such men as are adequate to enforce so important and difficult a law.

"3. Whatever number of men are necessary to properly enforce the law in any section of the country should be provided for that section.

"4. The government should appropriate whatever money may be necessary to enforce the law.

"5. More stringent penalties should be inflicted upon violators of the law."

"We demand," said the bishop, "that the national prohibition law be enforced in any wet section of the country at no matter what cost in men or money, that the rest of the country may be protected from the lawless, outlawed, defiant liquor traffic and its patrons, high or low, just as one section of the country is protected from the foot and mouth disease among cattle or cholera and small pox among persons which may be prevalent in another section."

The churchman said the federal government owed it to the dry states to adopt this proposal to stop the wet states from flaunting the law.

"The lawlessness of the liquor traffic compelled the adoption of national prohibition," he said. "Of course, no one is foolish enough to expect the prohibition law to be executed as the other laws are, but the first great question is not whether the prohibition law is observed and enforced, but whether the results have demonstrated that the present prohibition law is a better method of promoting the general welfare than any method tried heretofore.

"The one and only purpose of the 18th amendment is to promote the general welfare by prohibiting traffic in that which experience has demonstrated does cause hundreds of thousands of citizens to lose control of themselves and to become, therefore, not only unfitted to perform properly the duties which they owe the state, society at large and their families, but frequently also to become a menace and a public nuisance.

"The Quebec system of government liquor distribution was a failure when tried in South Carolina and a number of towns in Virginia. The system was a failure as an aid to true temperance and was abolished as every other form of the liquor traffic for its high crimes and misdemeanors."

Bishop Gannon read a telegram from the president of Washington & Lee University saying "the habit of drinking is rapidly diminishing."

"The mayor reports that there was not a single arrest for drunkenness, since the beginning of the September session," the president wrote. "This is the first time this has occurred in the history of the town."

Phillip King, representative of the Christian Science committee on publication, presented petitions asking retention of the Volstead act.

Mrs. Ella E. Boole, president of the National W. C. T. U., also spoke before the hearing today. She declared government control in Canada had brought no great success, declaring that bank clearings on Montreal were considerably less than in Toronto. She also said that idleness had been increased in Montreal since passing of the government control law.

The W. C. T. U. head said that

ON A TRESTLE

Milwaukee, April 19.—(UP)—Two boys are near death here today from injuries received when they were run down after being trapped on the North Shore Electric line trestle south of the city. They are brothers, Joseph and Frank Czakel, 9 and 6 years old respectively. Joseph's left arm was cut off and his head injured, while Frank's legs were severed at the knees. Frank Talata, 8, companion of the two boys, caught on the trestle with them, leaped down an embankment and rolled 40 feet to safety.

COL. WILLIAMS
FOUND GUILTY
AS CHARGEDTRIED BY MILITARY COURT MAR-
TIAL ON CHARGE OF BEING
INTOXICATEDVERDICT WILL BE FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON FOR APPROVAL

Marine Base, San Diego, Cal., April 19.—Colonel Alexander Williams, U. S. M. C., was found guilty by a court martial here today of having been intoxicated at a party here which followed a reception he gave to Gen. Smedley D. Butler, former head of the Philadelphia police.

The findings of the court and the punishment which was not revealed will be forwarded immediately to Washington, D. C., for approval by the secretary of the navy.

In line with the procedure in court martial cases there was no announcement in open court of the decision.

The military jury, composed of seven high naval and marine officers, drafted its findings behind closed doors and dispersed, signifying the defendant had been found guilty.

If the verdict had been acquittal, court would have reconvened and the defendant would have been informed of the decision.

"The trial is over," said Rear Admiral Thomas Washington, head of the court. "The findings will go to Washington for approval by the navy department."

WETS MAP OUT
POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Washington, April 19.—The wets have mapped out an extensive political campaign for the coming primaries and congressional elections as an aftermath of the senate prohibition investigation now nearing a close.

Realizing that the only hope of modifying the Volstead act lies in the possibility of electing more wet senators and congressmen, the Association Against Prohibition is resolving itself into a non-political organization to throw speakers and funds into the districts where wets are running for office.

The wet campaign will be concentrated in Massachusetts, New York, Iowa, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Missouri and California.

There may be other states added as the primaries develop the prohibition issue, but as matters stand now the wet leaders concede that their biggest hopes lie in the states mentioned.

ROWINHABITANTS FEAR A RECUR-
RENCE OF BLOODY
RIOTING

Herrin, Ill., April 19.—(UP)—With troops stationed about every polling place, Herrin will vote again tomorrow.

Officers and men of the headquarters company at Carbondale, will remain on duty at the request of officials and citizens of the town, who fear a recurrence of the rioting of last Tuesday's election, which took a toll of six dead.

Hope of peace between Klan and anti-Klan forces is believed to have disappeared and it is admitted that riots may flare out at almost any time after the soldiers desert the streets.

Belief that a lasting truce could be effected, cherished by a few leaders has been abandoned because old hatreds were so strong that the two factions could not bring themselves to meet across a council table. One leader, a storm center in almost every riot of the past, John Smith, has left town.

It is believed there is little danger of rioting tomorrow, the sobering influence of the troops being sufficient to preserve at least an outward appearance of calm.

TO LEAGUE ON THE SUBJECT

Washington, April 19.—(UP)—The United States government in a note to the League of Nations today declined to attend the proposed League conference on September 1 to discuss senate reservations to American adherence to the world court.

The note stated that the reservations were plain and unequivocal and must be accepted by exchange of notes directly between the United States and each of the 48 signatory nations.

"It would seem to me to be a matter of regret if the council of the League of Nations should do anything to create the impression that there are substantial differences in the way of such direct communication," said the note, which was signed by Secretary of State Kellogg.

"If special machinery is necessary for American participation in the court, this should naturally be considered after the reservations have been adopted, but the United States has no objections, however, if the signatory states wish to confer among themselves at this time," the note said.

Geneva, April 19.—The United States note refusing to participate in a conference of world court signatories for the purpose of finding a basis for acceptance of the American reservations to the court protocol was received by the League of Nations today.

ILLUMINATING
GAS KILLS WOMAN,
SICKENS THREE MEN

Minneapolis, April 19.—(UP)—A woman died from illuminating gas poisoning in a rooming house today and three men were taken to a hospital critically ill.

The woman was Mrs. May Bergerson. The three men are Adolph Hennickson, 40, Tad Snell, 51, and Lawrence Snell, 45.

Neighbors noticed an odor of gas coming from the apartment tenanted by the Snell brothers and Hennickson. Breaking in they found the woman dead and the other three overcome.

A gas jet in the living room was turned on full force. Mrs. Bergerson apparently had turned it on to get breakfast for the men. She was found in one room and the men in another.

POLICE IN FORCE
OUTNUMBER
TEXTILE STRIKERSSTRAGGLING GROUPS OF WORK-ERS RETURN TO THE
SEVEN MILLSMILLS ANNOUNCE THEY WILL TAKE BACK THE
STRIKERSBy PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Passaic, N. J., April 19.—The police outnumbered the strikers in the New Jersey textile mill area today and straggling groups of workers returned to the seven mills without being molested. The mills had announced that they would take back strikers.

Ragged children, trembling in the breeze which swept the Passaic valley, little knots of men and women with drawn, hungry faces, were in sorry contrast to the stalwarts wearing badges, on motor cycles and horses and on foot, who patrolled the district prepared to halt any demonstration.

Meanwhile Albert Weisbord, 25 year old Harvard student, leader of the textile strike, prepared to prove his assertion that:

Workers who have been stopped by cossacks will not be halted by a piece of paper.

The "piece of paper" to which Weisbord referred is the injunction obtained by the Forstmann-Huffman mill. This mill was guarded by men who carried sawed-off shotguns today and the strikers have made no attempt to approach it.

Weisbord, working from a hidden vantage point, declared he would not be the ostensible leader today when he was advised by the court, which granted the injunction, that he had already violated the court order with his statement branding the measure illegal.

During the morning the strike leaders planned to concentrate their efforts today on the mass meeting to be held at 2 P. M. at Wallington, which is in Bergen county, where Sheriff Nimmo has read the riot act. Thus far the sheriff has not interfered with such meetings. Albert Weisbord, the strike leader, and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn were to be leading speakers.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER
OF CHILD OF SIXFRED RUNDE TO BE TAKEN TO
FOND DU LAC FOR IDENTI-FICATION

Madison, Wis., April 19.—(UP)—Fred Runde, 26, alleged kidnaper of Frances Webb, 6, of Neenah, will be taken to Fond du Lac some time today for possible identification by John Mann, the farmer with whom the child was left by her abductor after she had been held captive for 12 hours.

Runde was arrested here Sunday by police as he was on his way to keep a date with a University of Wisconsin co-ed, after being recognized by Harold Krueger, formerly of Neenah.

The girl, Miss Beatrice Monsted, disclaimed knowledge of Runde's being wanted in connection with the kidnapping.

IMPRISONMENT

DeKalb, Ill., April 19.—(UP)—Three youths, two of them members of prominent northern Illinois families, today are in custody following charges of pretty Miss Dorothy Westerfeld, young co-ed, that they beat and attacked her.

A grand jury will be called Wednesday to hear testimony against the three and Cassius Croust, state's attorney, announced he would make every effort to have the youths indicted and given life imprisonment.

The three who are being held are Thomas Rich, a graduate of the Northern Illinois Teachers' College, where Miss Westerfeld attended school; Stanley Hurt, Malta, and Emerson Wilson, Charleston, Ill. Wilson and Hurt have admitted making advances to the girl, while on a motor car trip, but deny the brutality charges, according to police.

The girl told authorities that while on a motor car trip she was attacked, beaten and finally left unconscious on the front porch of her home.

LIBERAL LEANING

St. Louis, April 19.—(UP)—National officers of the League of Women Voters are taking every precaution to prevent any split over the prohibition question.

Sunday a special committee headed by Mrs. Maude Wood Park, former national president, labored over a resolution which is intended to please not only those who are extreme drys but those with liberal leanings as well.

Some time today the resolution will be presented before the convention, a modification of the resolution presented on Saturday by Mrs. Edward Y. Hartshorne, of the Pennsylvania delegation, an extreme dry. But lest discussion reach the point of dispute the resolution will be again put over for "consideration and study" by all the delegates.

The convention will not ballot on the issue until tomorrow morning.

MAUNA LOA
OF THE PACIFIC
BELCHES LAVALARGEST ACTIVE VOLCANO OF
REGION LOCATED ON HAWAII
ISLANDNATIVE VILLAGE OF HOPPULOW
WIPED OUT BY DESTRUCTIVE FLOOD

Kona, Hawaii, April 19.—(UP)—A second outbreak from the crater of Mauna Loa, the largest active volcano in the Pacific, located on the island of Hawaii, today sent a new stream of glowing lava slowly down the mountain slope to the sea.

The lava which started flowing with the first eruption from the crater, has already wiped out the native village of Hoppulow. The river of running rick, an angry red beneath its dark crust, came down the mountain side and over ran the village. Then it streamed onward into the sea. As it struck the water a terrific roar went up and clouds of steam arose from the quarter mile wide point of contact like gigantic geysers.

Almost at the same time the stream from the first outbreak was making its contact with the sea, the intensity of the activity increased in the main crater, which towers more than 10,000 feet into the clouds on the side of the mountain which rises abruptly from the mid Pacific.

New craters, smaller than the "mother crater," broke out at points nearby and the mountain and the island near it were shaken with earth tremors.

No loss of life occurred in the destruction of Hoppulow, which was a rude native village composed chiefly of small huts.

Knowing their homes lay in the path of the steadily moving lava flow, the inhabitants had fled when the stream started its course to the sea. Hundreds of people sought points of vantage from which to watch the eruption which is said to be one of the most spectacular in recent history of Hawaii's volcanoes.

The flow of the lava stream from the renewed outbreak is forcing its way to the Kau region and reported gathering momentum as it goes. Several ranches and homesteads in its path are in danger. It is expected to pass those to the village of Walo-hinu and then tumble into the sea, providing another great spectacle.

Around the history of Mauna Loa its sister crater, Kilauea, many of the legends of the Hawaiian Islands are written.

Madame Pele, goddess of fire, is believed by the natives to live in these craters. When Pele is happy the craters are inactive, and Kilauea can be approached after a 25 mile drive from the city of Hilo, over well built roads.

But when Pele becomes angry or feels that her people need discipline, legend says, the craters become active and the degree of anger with which Pele is shaken is reflected in the intensity of the eruptions.

Various modes of allaying the anger of the goddess are followed by the natives.

Some hold that only by casting a virgin into the crater can Pele be pacified.

In the days before the coming of the missionaries and civilization this was said to have been done often.

In more recent years the flow of lava was reputed to have been stopped on the outskirts of Hilo by the sacrifice of a black rooster.

Mauna Loa, the great mountain, is 13,675 feet high and the crater which bears the same name as the mountain, is 12,400 feet across. Kilauea, the second largest crater, is on the eastern slope of the mountain. About three years ago it was in eruption.

TO APPROPRIATE
100 MILLION TO
AID THE FARMERSASSISTANCE TO BE EXTENDED

STRESSASSURES FARMERS OF A SUB-STANTIAL CREDIT RE-SOURCE

Washington, April 19.—The Tinchler bill creating a federal farm board and appropriating $100,000,000 to aid farmers during times of stress was recommended today by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine before the house agriculture committee.

"The bill," Jardine said, "will give real impetus to collective action which, by general agreement, is pre-requisite to agricultural progress in our modern system. It will mobilize for farmers a credit resource adequate to let them go into the markets on even terms with all. It will help ever farmer who has to sell his produce in the fall for lack of resources to hold it over."

"It will help to stabilize the market for all farm products, not merely for three or four products. It will not conflict with the interests of dissimilar regions. It does not propose any artificial disposition of the surplus as would lead to an aggravated situation later. It involves no government price fixing nor does it put the government into the business of handling farm products. It does not offer a subsidy to farmers but it does offer them the businesslike help that other groups enjoy. It is not a threat to consumers, but, instead, is a contribution to the general stability of supply and markets."

Woman Decries Value of Ancient Precept

"Sometimes I think precepts do more harm than good," said the woman, as, with flushed cheeks she threw down a dress she had been working on all day. "For instance, I had it drilled into me in my youth, 'Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today,' and I actually suffer for it. 'Many times it would be much better to put things off until tomorrow, but I feel that old precept driving me. In illustration: it would have been much better if I had put by this dress until tomorrow, for I've worked on it too long already. But no, I kept plugging along, and now I've made a bad blunder on it."

"Again and again I am overtired or overnervous for a certain task, but that old precept keeps dinging in my ears, and I attempt today what would be much better attempted tomorrow. In the case of important decisions, too, I think it is much better generally to sleep on the problem, but somehow I feel as if putting off until tomorrow was a sin and I often decide with hasty judgment."

"I know that lazy people often put off until tomorrow, believing someone will do the task for them, and of course they're very negligent and slack—but sometimes their system is best to follow."—Springfield Union.

Russian Given Credit for Radio "Invention"

Who was the "inventor" of radio? The Soviet government claims the honor for a Russian, Prof. Alexander Stepanovitch Popoff, and has adopted a characteristic method of telling the world about it.

A new Russian stamp came to the notice of the writer a short time ago. Above an excellent likeness appear the words "Inventor de Radio-Popov." The language of this inscription is Esperanto, though the other characters on the stamp are Russian.

The facts appear to be that Professor Popoff—admittedly one of the great pioneers of wireless—publicly transmitted wireless signals over a distance of 40 meters in 1895, the year before Marconi took out his first patent for Hertzian wave telegraphy. But Brantly and Sir Oliver Lodge had been experimenting for some time along the same lines, and the latter gave demonstrations in 1894 in which "coherers" (the earliest form of radio "detectors") were employed. It is not easy, therefore, to award the palm. Hertz, after all, was the first to produce the radio wave.

BATTLE OF MUSIC LARGELY ATTENDED

United Commercial Travelers Dance
Saturday Evening at Gardner
Hall an Enjoyable Event

CONTINUOUS DANCING NOVELTY

Hedstrom's of Brainerd and the Raggadors of Ironton Furnish Music for the Event

"The Battle of Music," first novelty event of the kind in this section of the Northwest, was staged Saturday evening by Brainerd Council, No. 545, United Commercial Travelers of America, and drew an immense crowd at Gardner hall. Over 700 invitations had been sent out. In addition to the large Brainerd attendance, there were 20 couples from Staples, many from Pequot, some 40 people from Ironton and Crosby, four couples from Hill City, two couples from Palisade, in fact every section of the wide territory covered by Brainerd travelingmen had some of their customers and families and friends represented at the dance. Automobiles lined both sides of the streets in the vicinity of Gardner auditorium.

Music was furnished by the Hedstrom's of Brainerd and the Raggadors of Ironton. Each orchestra played its finest selections and the rivalry was keen. The Hedstrom's were seated on a special stage built at the west end of the hall and the Raggadors, the guest orchestra, were seated on the regular stage at the east end of the building. Dancing started at 8:30 o'clock and was continuous to midnight. Many couples danced every dance. There were no intermissions, for one orchestra started up just as soon as the other finished. Each had its admirers and encores were frequently demanded.

The dance committee, Charles W. Gustafson, chairman, received praise for its originality in planning the dance. Many of the range people came early in the afternoon, visiting and shopping before the dance.

After the dance every restaurant and candy kitchen was crowded to the limit.

Measures to prevent the use of goods on Oporto bullocks and to substitute whips are not founded, as one might suppose, on humane motives. The reason is that the goods so puncture the hides of the animals they are more or less useless for shoe leather.

NOTED RUSSIAN TO SING IN CITY

INA BOURSKEYA
Mezzo—Soprano

Mme. Ina Bourskaya who will sing at the New Park theatre Sunday, April 25, under Brainerd Musical club auspices comes from an aristocratic family in Russian Poland, and during the Czarist days was traveled and educated in other European countries. She made her debut when quite young in grand opera and soon became known in Petrograd and Moscow, not only as a singer and actress, but as a beauty. During the revolution she escaped from Russia through Siberia, and after many hardships joined a company of other refugee musicians and toured the Orient. This organization, the Russian Grand Opera company, finally landed in Seattle and toured this country.

Mme. Bourskaya made such a great impression in Chicago and New York with this company that she was quickly engaged for both the major opera companies of America, the Metropolitan in New York, and the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

The Philathea class of the M. E. church put on the play last Friday night, April 16, entitled "Old Maid's Association." Music was furnished by an orchestra before the play and between the acts. A very large crowd attended.

First act was old maids taking train for Brainerd to attend the Old Maid's convention. Couldn't find tickets. Very excited.

Second act the association in session. Object was to find husbands for old maids. Couldn't find any until Professor Makanew came with his wonderful machine, and the old maids entering into this machine were changed to young, beautiful talented young ladies.

Each took parts well, and all were old fashioned costumes.

FIRE SITUATION HERE INSPECTED

A. E. Pimley, of State Forest Department, Investigates Conditions

COMPLIMENTS AUTHORITIES

Township Fire Warden's Cooperated With the Forest Department

Anson E. Pimley, of the State Forest department at St. Paul, is in Brainerd for a few days looking over the fire situation here.

"The situation around Brainerd is really nothing alarming," Mr. Pimley stated. "The fires are not as alarming as one would imagine by reading the big city newspapers' account of them. The fires you have had around Brainerd are only preliminaries to real big ones sure to come later unless everybody take particular caution not to have another outbreak."

Mr. Pimley complimented the local authorities of the forest department for their work in the recent flareup of fires, also the township fire wardens who this year are co-operating with the forest department more than ever before in the prevention of fires and quick action in stopping fires where any occur, he said.

Fire was reported yesterday near Love Lake on the Ironton road, ten miles east of the city. The fire is still smoldering but no worry is felt.

Mr. Pimley stressed the point that the people of Minnesota should be concerned over fires because of the fact that where forest fires occur the trees around lakes and summer resorts would be bared with the consequence that the resorts would lose their attractiveness.

This year, Mr. Pimley stated, the forest department are keeping close readings of humidity. In this way they can detect the dry seasons and be in readiness for any outbreaks of forest fires. There are twelve weather stations throughout the state, with a large detailed station at Bemidji where the department conducts series of experiments.

A small fire is reported today in section 31 of Crow Wing township about ten miles south of Brainerd, three miles south of Crow Wing station.

Cast Iron and Rust

The bureau of standards says the extent to which cast iron will rust is of course, dependent upon the conditions to which it is subjected. For simple atmospheric exposure it is far superior to wrought iron or the ordinary forms of steels. Some of the newly developed alloy steels are just as resistant as cast iron.

DOG LICENSES DUE

Dog licenses are now due and unless all dogs are tagged by May 1, the owners will have to take the consequences, which are in the case of convictions the imposing of a fine of $10. Mrs. Elizabeth T. Fleener, city clerk stated today.

The dog tax this year is $2 for the male dog and $3 for the female. In applying for dog license, the owner must give full particulars concerning the dog, its name, description, and pedigree. In this way the city can check up on all dogs in Brainerd. So far 23 licenses have been issued by Mrs. Fleener.

LET'S AT LEAST BE HONEST

ANNOUNCEMENT is made that Mayor Leach is to come out for the modification of the Volstead law. That is not only silly, but it is rank demagoguism.

In the first place a governor has nothing to do with an act of congress above any private citizen.

In the second place all this talk of modifying the constitution of the United States is sheer foolishness.

It would be just as logical to advocate the modification of the constitution prohibiting slavery, and to permit states that favored the owning of slaves to pass laws to that effect.

We have respect for the man who would repeal the 18th amendment, and try some other way. We might not agree with his views, but he is at least to be credited with honesty. He is contending for something that might be done.

The constitution prohibits the manufacture, sale, importation and exportation of "intoxicating beverages." There are no ifs ands about it. Any beverage that will produce intoxication is prohibited by the constitution.

No state has the right to pass a law in conflict with the constitution of the federal government, and neither has congress. Should congress do so idiotic a thing, the courts would have to decide such an attempt unconstitutional.

The man who advocates something that cannot be done in order to win votes is trying to fool the people. He may succeed in misleading some voters, but not any who have sense and understanding.

If the majority of the people are not satisfied with prohibition repeal the 18th amendment—that is their right. But why all this agitation for something that cannot be done?

Let's be honest with ourselves and each other.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

JUDGE WRIGHT ENDORSED

WITH a full knowledge of his ability and fairness as a judicial judge, bar association units over the fifteenth district are giving wholehearted endorsement to Hon. B. F. Wright of Park Rapids who is to seek re-election this year. Legal talent in Itasca and Beltrami counties are first to come forward with public approval of Judge Wright's administration and practically all other resident lawyers in the district are expected to follow suit to the example. Judge Wright has just completed eighteen years of service on the bench. His lengthy record in public service is without a mar. He has fulfilled every requirement. He should be returned to office with a good vote.—Gonvick Banner.

Note—The Crow Wing county association also recently added its endorsement of Judge Wright.

THE FARMER'S FRIEND

"A RECENT request of Congressman Harold Knutson of this district to President Coolidge asked that the duty on butter be raised. This is now in effect and should tend to better the butter market for the farmers of this country," says the Pillager Herald. Continuing that paper states that "Congressman Knutson does not bear the Farmer-Labor label but nevertheless has in the past and is still doing more for the farmer than those bearing the Farmer-Labor brand. The popular congressman will again be a candidate for re-election this year and the people of this district should see that he goes back with the largest majority ever given him."—Little Falls Transcript.

In the old days any policeman was able to tell at a glance if a man was drunk. Nowadays an army officer is on trial charged with drunkenness and it takes days and days of expensive court martial procedure and a flock of witnesses to bring in all the evidence for and against the charge of drunkenness. The test of the old timers, considered an infallible one, centered on the little finger of the man charged with drunkenness. If he was able to wiggle his little finger, then he was not intoxicated. This test was not used in the army officer trial.

ONE of the greatest menaces to traffic on the streets boulevards and even on country highways, is the slow driver cruising down the center of the thoroughfare. The rules of the road, continues the Pillager Herald, require all slow-moving traffic—whether passenger automobile, truck or bus, to keep to the right near the curb. This rule is violated every day, and all the time. Everywhere may be found the slow traveler, creeping down the middle of the highway, blocking traffic and actually endangering the lives of others.

OUR own Bill Zakariasen, premier high school pitcher, had his picture in the Minneapolis Tribune this morning, in company with E. Addington, veteran Carleton flinger. They are the two pitchers the Minnesota baseball team will be called upon to face in its game against the Carleton college nine at Northfield this afternoon.

WITH thousands of inquiries concerning Minnesota's facilities for tourists pouring into the Gateway information bureau of the Minneapolis Civic & Commerce association, indications are that 1926 will be a "banner year" for the state.

Tombstone Over Grave of Little Girl Killed
By Automobile Now Cause of Second Lawsuit

While playing in the road at Hillsboro, Ill., Hester Button, 6 years old, was killed by an auto driven by Miss Blen Bellayer. The young woman was exonerated by a coroner's jury and the child's parents lost a suit for damages. The stone shown above was erected by the parents in a cemetery near Hillsboro. It bears the child's name and the dates of birth and death and also "Killed Blen Bellayer." The word "by" is missing but Miss Bellayer has filed a suit demanding the removal of her name from the stone.

ONCE RESIDENCE OF
GEORGE WASHINGTONNew Jersey Mansion Has Historic Associations.

High up on Rocky hill, four or five miles distant from the university town of Princeton, N. J., stands a handsome white mansion. It was once the home of John Berrien, associate justice of the Supreme court of New Jersey during Colonial times. To it members of the General Society of the Cincinnati will make a pilgrimage in May, when they meet in Princeton, for the charming old residence is second only to Mount Vernon as a Washington shrine, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Rockingham, as Judge Berrien had called his mansion, was placed at the disposal of General and Lady Washington in 1783 when the commander-in-chief of the Continental army was called to appear before congress, then sitting in Nassau hall, Princeton, to receive that body's congratulations upon the success of the war.

Here he resided with his charming wife, who dispensed hospitality not only to the old Princeton families, but to such distinguished visitors as Hamilton, Jefferson, Robert Morris and Boudinot. Here, surrounded by friends and members of congress, Washington assisted in the plans for peace and for his return to his beloved Mount Vernon.

Here, too, Washington wrote his farewell address to the army—the Blue room, where he penned it, has been preserved almost intact. From the little balcony, which is just outside the Blue room, Washington delivered his address to the remnant of the Continental forces that still remained in arms in November, 1783.

A touching instance of respect for Washington was revealed when negotiations were under way a few years ago for the purchase of the house. It was then that Mrs. Josephine A. Thomson Swann, a Princeton woman, bought the house and turned it over to the Washington Headquarters association in Rocky Hill, which has since cared for the mansion.

Mrs. Swann, inspecting the building, declared that there was one room she had not seen. The guide, who was the housekeeper for Italian quarrymen who were using the headquarters for a boarding house, reluctantly led the way to the Blue room.

Through the opening door was revealed the famous room, scrupulously clean and neat, its sole furniture a bare kitchen table placed at the farther end of the room. On it stood a cheap lithograph of Washington, before which burned a night lamp. These rough Italian quarrymen, feeling the greatness of the commander-in-chief, had made a little shrine of his room.

Within the old mansion is now collected a wealth of Washingtoniana. There are hundreds of famous letters, many of Washington, of Doctor Witherspoon, a signer of the Declaration, and president of Princeton university, and of other celebrities of the day. There is one, written a few years after his Rockingham residence, from Washington, acknowledging the reception given him by matrons and the young girls of Trenton when he passed through the city en route to New York to be inaugurated.

Crooked Critics

"Literary criticism in London and New York is so crooked that it reminds me of a story," said Fitzgibbon Fothergill, the Omaha novelist.

"A new play was put on in a big city one night, and one gang in the gallery was hired to boo, while another was hired to clap.

"Well, the boosers booed till they were hoarse, and the clappers clapped till they had blisters on their hands. At this stage in the proceedings, seeing how the land lay, the captain of the booing gang tipped over to the captain of the clappers and whispered: "My men are done up. So are yours. What do you say, then, if my crowd claps for the rest of the show and your crowd boos? Is it a go?" "Sure," said the clappers' captain. "Sure. Why not? It comes to the same thing in the end."

Wise English Sparrow

An English sparrow that has learned more than its fellows makes its appearance each afternoon between 4 and 4:30 o'clock at the baggage room of the Westfield (Mass.) station, says the Boston Globe. If the door is closed when it comes, it flies to one of the side windows and pecks on the glass to call the attention of the railroad men that it has come for the night. The request is honored immediately. It flies to its perch and remains there for the night. In the morning when the room is opened it prepared for another day. If the door is closed again before the sparrow can fly out, it chirps, calling attention to its presence and its desire to get into the open again, flying out when the door is opened.

"Abbreviated" Piano

How the ingenuity of an American manufacturer matched the odd demand of an Indian potentate, is told by Mann Hutton in the New York Evening Post. The maharajah bought a piano from the American, but upon delivery found to his annoyance that he could not reach the keyboard, as he sat on the ground when he played. The manufacturer had the piano returned to the factory and there cut its legs off. Then it was received with acclaim and the maharajah is still banging away at it perfectly content.

Dwelling of Today
Compared With Past

Consider the present-day, well-appointed house. It has an entrance hall, living or drawing-room, kitchen and pantry and service departments, bedrooms and bathrooms with endless sanitary adjuncts and aids to comfort. Go back a hundred years and you find the house has no bathroom. Go back two hundred years and apparently no change has been made.

Go back three hundred years to the time of Elizabeth and James I. and the house has only some primary divisions of hall, living-room, kitchen and bedroom, although the hall is large and well lighted. Go back a generation beyond Elizabeth and the hall is larger but less cheerful because the windows are smaller. Go back still further, say to the Twelfth century, and hardly any windows are visible in the outside walls, there are no bedrooms and living-rooms and the house consists of nothing but a kitchen and a large barnlike hall. This is the house reduced to the ultimate essentials.—New York Herald-Tribune.

In the Forkless Days

Forks were not introduced into England till 1608, and it is a notable fact that whilst we get Knifemith and Spooner amongst our occupational surnames, we find no Forker or Forksmith. Even the "Carver" had to use his fingers. In the Boke of Kervynge we find it set down, "Set never on fische, flesche, heest, ne fowl, more than two fingers and a thumb." The guest was lucky if he got a plate. Usually he was supplied with a round of bread known as a trencher upon which the meat was placed. It will be easy to understand why this was followed by the necessary services of the "ewer" with a basin of cleansing water and the "napier" who proffered the towel or napkin.—Manchester Guardian.

Allegorical Description

Oil was used for burning in lamps as early as the time of the Patriarch Abraham. It was the custom of the ancient Jews to anoint with oil persons appointed to high offices, as the priests and kings. The oil so used was the oil of the olive common throughout the East from very early times. One of its uses was that of an article of diet. A land of corn and oil and wine was a brief description of a rich, attractive country.

A contemporary of John Wesley, a theological student at Leipzig, indorsing his views that cleanliness was next to godliness, took a bath, whereupon, because of his modernism, it is said he was refused his degree, says the Dearborn Independent.

MEN WORK AT NIGHT TO BRACE UP WEAK DAM

JUNCTION OF WISCONSIN AND FOX RIVERS AT FLOOD STAGE

5,000 BAGS OF SAND ARE USED TO HOLD BACK THE WATERS

Portage, Wis., April 19.—(UP)—Lowering headwaters behind a temporary structure of sand bags strengthening the dam at the junction of the Wisconsin and Fox rivers here, which threatened to give way Saturday night and flood the city, today gave anxious residents of Portage assurance that the worst of the danger was past. More than 100 men worked frantically all Saturday night in an effort to bolster the fast breaking dam.

Portage, Wis., April 19.—Fear of flood at the junction of the Wisconsin and Fox rivers from the breaking dam was dispelled today as the temporary structure of 5,000 bags of sand held back the swirling waters.

Authorities declared unless the seepage from the high head waters behind the dam undermined the sand bags barricade, it would serve until a new dam could be built.

What would probably have been the most disastrous flood of recent years in Wisconsin, was averted only after 12 hours of frantic work by volunteers from the surrounding countryside.

The dam was discovered to be breaking late Saturday afternoon by a watchman who would have gone off duty an hour later. The city was immediately notified and volunteer workers were called upon to erect a temporary dam of sand bags. Twelve hours of continual work was necessary before the city was pronounced out of danger.

Government engineers today declared that had the temporary repairs on the dam by volunteer workers been delayed more than an hour the Wisconsin river waters would now be rushing down the Fox river valley, causing considerable damage to farm lands and would have swept away part of Portage and flooded the streets of Fond du Lac. A. F. Evertt, government engineer from Milwaukee, says there is little likelihood of permanent repairs being made before fall.

H. H. Neimeyer, mayor elect of Portage, pointed out, however, that danger of seepage undermining the strength of the temporary structure was apparent and indicated the city will ask for a new dam to be constructed immediately.

Confidences

There is often a strong temptation to speak, when, by divulging a confidence, one might easily vindicate characters, clear up serious misunderstandings, or heal a lover's quarrel; yet, if we are true to ourselves we must refrain, for if "to tell our own secrets is folly, to communicate those of others is treachery."

The wiser course is to refuse to give one's bond regarding the confidences of another, and so leave ourselves free to make the truth known, if, by doing so, we can prevent further injustice and misunderstanding.

Off the Reservation

They were telling a yarn in the white light belt about a small-time booking agent who heard of an all-Indian jazz band recently arrived in New York. He taxied to a Brooklyn theater and went backstage to the manager of the act.

"Are all of you really Indians?" he asked. "If you are, I think I can arrange a long route. You are really Indians, hey?"

"Vat would be the use of kiddin' me?" replied the leader. "Ve are all foot-blodt."—Everybody's Magazine.

The Ruling Passion

A member of the Lambs' club tells of a comedian, who of late years had not had much luck, and who was dictating his notions of what his life should be. "What money I have, if any such as it is, or might be, that is to say," he began.

"Wait a moment," said his lawyer. "I can put that in more legal language."

"I know," said the comedian, "but I want to get a laugh."

Elephant Borrowed From Circus To Help Plant Trees in New York Park, Does Job His Own Way

Miss Evelyn M. Smith, president of the Amateur New York Tree Nursery, took some trees to Central Park to be planted. Efficient help had been obtained from a circus playing in the city, in the shape of several elephants. Now elephants are credited with great intelligence. Well, one of the elephants thought he could do much better this way in the job assigned to him.

Other speakers today were Charles S. Clark, of the Grain Dealers' Journal, Chicago, and Frank G. Ely, farm expert, also of Chicago.

The Mystery of Life

The first duty of every man is to acquire as much common sense as possible as soon as possible. If we know the simple rules governing life and that its conditions are fixed and unchanging, we need not greatly care for "the deeper significance of it all." How did the world originate? I do not know; but I know its rules, and that they will certainly endure as long as I am interested in the subject. . . . Literary men write about the dark woods in terms of mystery, but practical men have charted the woods and are able to tell the meaning of the darkness and the morning. —E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Pharaohs Played Checkers

They were playing checkers in Egypt in 1900 B. C. and there is a question whether some of those old games are not going on yet. Archaeologists find checkers was the favorite game of Queen Hatshepsut. They have even found several of her draughts-men and fragments of the board on which she played. Egyptian inscriptions show the game was popular in the times of the earlier Pharaohs. . . . As the centuries go by men dress differently and customs change, but man himself is pretty much the same kind of fellow.—Capper's Weekly.

Times Have Changed

The chairman of a campaign committee was approached by an unimportant politician who had previously bolted the party. The man said that he had seen the error of his ways and expressed a desire to be taken back and given a job at campaign headquarters.

"I am sorry that I shall have to disappoint you, Mr. Blank," the chairman replied. "Glad to see you back, of course, but in these days the wise prodigal brings along his own calf."

Secret Service

"What's this?" asked the boss as his stenog laid a box on his desk. "Why, they're the envelopes you told me to get while I was in the department store," replied his stenog. "Great Scott!" exclaimed the boss. "I meant for you to get them in the stationery department."

"Oh," giggled the stenog. "I thought your wife had asked you to make a purchase and you were too bashful to go yourself."

BASEBALL'S LURE CAUSES ARREST OF "RADIO THIEF" WHO CONFESSES MURDER

Paul Hilton, 26-year-old ex-convict and New York's much sought "radio thief," was arrested because he was a baseball fan. He went to New York from Providence, R. I., to witness the opening game of the big league season between the Giants and Brooklyn and was arrested at the entrance. Many radio receiving sets had been stolen by the burglar and he shot four policemen when he surprised during his maraudings. One of them died. According to the police, Hilton not only admitted that he had been the radio thief but confessed that he shot the policemen. While serving one of his sentences, Hilton played third base on the prison team.

Searchlight for Lifeboats

In the excitement of shipwrecks at night, lifeboats not infrequently capsize, collide or are run down by steamers. To reduce these dangers a London firm has devised a special electric searchlight for use on motor-driven boats, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is equipped with silvered reflectors, a powerful gas-filled type of bulb and has a carriage to alter the range of the light swiftly. By a single turn of a switch at the back of the lamp the long-range concentrated beam may be changed into a close-range diffused illumination, but the central core of light shines undimmed while the change is being made. Besides the searchlight the boat is also provided with a radio outfit. Controls for the different units are closely grouped for easy handling.

European Air Terminals

Warsaw, Prague and Budapest, the capitals of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, respectively, are among the world's most important air terminals. They are equipped with up-to-date and government-owned landing fields, where facilities are provided for supplies, repairs, weather reports and all other adjuncts of successful operation. These cities are not only the termini of long international routes operated by French and German air companies, but are also the headquarters of smaller independent air companies operating shorter lines between these capitals and industrial centers.

Mending Shoes at Home

Blacksmiths have almost disappeared. Is it now the cobbler's turn? It would seem so, if mankind takes to mending its own shoes with a new leather filler that comes in a tube. The filler is poured on the worn part of a shoe and shaped by the fingers to the correct form, according to Popular Science Monthly. Ten minutes' exposure to the air dries the liquid and it becomes an artificial leather that is said to be more lasting and weatherproof than natural leather. The filler is also useful for mending rubber goods.

D. A. R. MEET IN WASHINGTON

IN ATMOSPHERE OF UNUSUAL
CALM PREPARE TO ELECT
PRESIDENT

Washington, April 19.—(UP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution gathered here today in an atmosphere of unusual calm prepared to elect a new president to succeed Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook.

Mrs. Alfred Brousseau was the leading candidate for the post and the pre-convention talk was that this year, differing from other years, there would be no fight in the session.

President Coolidge will address the convention tonight.

In her address to the convention the retiring president declared the American constitution is not archaic and she pleaded that it be "jealously guarded against radical attacks and attempts at subversion of its fundamentals."

She predicted the 18th amendment to the constitution would stand.

NEW BRITISH LAW HITS "ELDEST SON"

Makes Radical Change in Order of Heirship.

The reign of the eldest son as sole heir to the family mansion and estate in Great Britain is at an end. Since the first day of January a new law has prevailed which will hereafter compel him to share his heritage not only with his brothers but with his sisters. Thus has the term "son and heir" lost much of the significance with which it has been invested not less in real life than in fiction. It is a most radical change, because for centuries the general custom in England has been that, upon an intestacy, the eldest son shall succeed to his father's "real" property—that is to say, his freehold lands and houses and the heirlooms—to the exclusion of his mother, brothers and sisters.

The law was introduced by the Normans and established as part of the feudal system of land tenure, and the origin of the preference shown for the eldest son would seem to have rested upon thoroughly practical grounds, because in feudal times land was held, for the most part, either direct from the king, or through some intermediate lord, under a form of tenure which carried with it an obligation on the part of the tenant to render some personal service to his landlord. The duty required of the tenant was, usually, either of a military kind, such as to serve his lord as knight, or else of an agricultural nature, for example, to plow the lord's fields. It was obviously desirable that one man should be made responsible for the required service, and upon the death of a tenant his eldest son was presumed to be the person best fitted to take over his land and his obligations.

That this "eldest son favoritism" has so long prevailed, shows how loath the English are to abandon old customs. As in the past, so in the future, the eldest son's share of his father's property may exceed that of his brothers and sisters; but, if it does, it will be under the terms of a will and not because of any natal superiority in the eyes of the law.

Improving on Nature

The production of synthetic camphor from turpentine oil in this country appears to be an accomplished fact. Exact details are not known, but from one to three tons a day have been quoted as estimates of the production.

The camphor industry until recent years has been a monopoly of the Japanese, who have continually increased the price of the natural product and have thus forced European consumers to manufacture camphor synthetically. Such manufacture is indeed satisfactory, especially as it has spread to Britain on a fairly large scale.

Everything points to the fact, says a writer in the Industrial Chemist, that it is the synthetic product and not the natural variety that now governs the price.

A Record Made a Verdict Rendered

Here is a record to make you pause:

70,599 Dodge Brothers Motor Cars and Graham Brothers Trucks sold in the United States from January 2nd to April 3rd, 1926!

The greatest quarter in the company's history.

37 per cent greater than the same period last year, when 51,318 units were sold.

This record was a foregone conclusion. Since the first of the year demand increased week by week. Each period showed greater sales than the one preceding and greater than the same period of 1925.

During the last week recorded, ending April 3rd, 9104 units were sold, against 6530 for the best week last year—a gain of 39 per cent.

Sales figures are an index to the buyer's preference.

Buyer's preference, these days, springs from clean-cut convictions on quality and comparative worth, penny for penny.

Although the peak of the selling season has not yet been reached, the verdict has already been rendered.

Bottomley's homer with two runners on bases helped the Cards to flop the Cubs, 10 to 5.

The Browns knocked Whitehill out of the box, but the Tigers came back and won 7 to 3.

Babe Pinelli's wild throw let in two runs and the Pirates beat the Reds in the ninth inning, 3 to 1.

With Hollingsworth keeping the Hens' 11 hits scattered, the Millers retained the lead in the American association by defeating Toledo 9 to 3.

Scoring two runs in the fifth inning after the Colonels had made one in their half the Kaws won an extra inning contest 7 to 6.

On the short end of a 5 to 3 count the Saints started a rally in the seventh inning, scored eight runs and defeated the Senators 11 to 6.

HOFF TO GET EXPENSE MONEY IN APPEARANCES

Drake authorities and E. C. Lytton, Hoff's business manager, denied the charges and intimated the story probably was spread by motion picture photographers who were not allowed to register Hoff's attempt at the record at the University of Kansas relays Saturday.

Hoff will appear in a special record attempting performance as an added attraction to the annual relays here Saturday, indications today were that the University of Iowa would have the largest representation at the meet. Forty-nine men will be brought here from Iowa City including the relay team which will attempt to defend its Drake record.

ATHLETICS AND BROWNS ARE IN THE CELLAR

IN NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPION PIRATES ARE IN SIXTH PLACE

CARDINALS, GIANTS AND REDS ARE IN THE FIRST DIVISION

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 19.—With the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns tangled up over a dispute for last place, things were not exactly as they should be at the end of the first week in the American league.

Form has not been scrambled so badly in the National league. The champion Pirates, of course, have no business in sixth place, but the St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds are in the first division.

Most anything can happen in the chilly weeks of the early season and there used to be a tendency among managers and players to give slight concern to starting games, but a game counts just as much now as in late September.

"Early season games are becoming increasingly important as the competition becomes stronger," John McGraw, manager of the Giants, said. "The team that gets the big jump this year before mid-season is the team that will win the pennant."

McGraw said he had observed particularly this season that the players on clubs standing for a slice of world series money were bearing down as hard as they could.

The St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago White Sox played the best game of the opening week and are holding first place in the major leagues. The Cardinals, aided by Bottomley's terrific hitting, won five out of six games and the White Sox, hustling for Eddie Collins, lost only one game out of five.

The Giants won four out of their five games, the Phillies four of six, and the Reds three out of five. The Pirates lost four of their six games.

The Washington Senators are holding third place in the American league, with four games won and two lost. This record is more impressive than the mere figures show, as the Senators have played all their games against their strongest rivals, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Yankees.

The Athletics won only one of their five games and the disappointing Browns have failed to win a game in five starts.

Detroit looked good in winning three out of four, and if Ty Cobb has been successful in strengthening the defense of the team, the Tigers are sure to be in the fight.

MANY FISH PERISHED IN LAKES OF STATE

LOW WATER LEVELS WORKED HAVOC IN THE PAST WINTER

BASS, PIKE, CRAPPIES, STURGEON SUCCUMBED IN LARGE NUMBERS

St. Paul, April 19.—(UP)—Unnumbered thousands of fish have perished in northwest lakes during the past winter, because of low water levels, according to reports reaching the state game and fish commission. Although thousands of fish perish annually from various causes, the number of dead fish in lakes this year is far greater than heretofore. Jay Gould, game and fish commissioner, said:

Included in the dead fish drifting shoreward as the ice goes out are bass, pike, crappies and sturgeon, though ordinarily rough fish predominate. These annual losses of fish are becoming alarming, officials said.

At Lake Pokegama, near Pine City, 15 truck loads of dead fish were hauled away Sunday from the shore in front of the state tuberculosis sanitarium. Dozens of truck loads are yet to be hauled away.

Many fish suffocate during the winter due to lack of air because of low water levels and overcrowded conditions.

"How do you spell 'financially'?" asked a college student of his room-mate.

"F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y," said the room-mate, spelling out the word slowly. As an afterthought, he added: "And 'embarrassed' has two r's and two s's."

How often have you said to a salesman, "That's more than I care to pay"? If you had known the price in advance, you would have been spared this little embarrassment. That's one of the great services rendered by newspaper advertising.

By reading the advertisements before going to the stores, you know what you will have to pay for an article. You need not reveal your financial status to a salesman. You perhaps do not like to ask the price of goods anyhow. If the merchant has told you the price in his advertisement, you do not have to ask.

Any way you figure it out, it pays you to read the advertisements. Regularly! The one advertisement you skip may contain just the news you would have welcomed. Read all the advertisements you can. Keep informed.

The intelligent way to shop is to read the advertisements and then go to the stores that offer the best values. Make notes beforehand of the articles that interest you. That's the way to get the most for your money. That's the way to save time.

When you know the price in advance, you can ask to be shown the goods "as advertised"

FIRE MEADOW TO FIND LIQUOR

Novel Excuse Given by Carl Olson, of Pequot, in Municipal Court

IS FINED $25 AND COSTS

Sheriff Reid Catches Him in Act of Firing Meadow, Chases
Him 7 Miles

For setting a fire to a meadow to find two bottles of moonshine he had cached there, Carl Olson, of Pequot, was on Saturday convicted and fined $25 and costs by Judge Alderman for starting a fire.

Anxious to find the moonshine he had hid in a meadow but had forgotten where he had hid the two bottles, Carl Olson was surprised by Sheriff Reid just as he had lit the grass on fire. On the arrival of the sheriff, Olson attempted a get away in his car and the frenzied chase of the car came to a climax after seven miles of hectic riding when Sheriff Reid overtook him. Olson admitted that he had started the fire to find the moonshine which he was arrested but a search for the bottles revealed nothing. A tourist who was coming along the road just after the fire started managed to put out the fire.

Erick Hanson, caretaker at Luna Park was also arraigned before Judge Alderman for setting fire at Luna Park for clearing purposes which spread to Wonderland park, scorching the birch trees there. He was fined $25 and costs but the fine was suspended.

Six cases of parties starting fires are also pending. It was reported this morning from the forest department here.

Each member was requested to suggest a name for the club, result: The Gilbert Lake Sewing Club.

The leaders then took up the work as follows: first plackets, samples of various types of plackets were shown and members were requested to try them out and bring samples of their work to the next meeting.

Second—patterns, selection of patterns and alteration of same. They were then instructed in taking measurements and cutting out patterns. After the work was finished all repaired to the dining room where a treat awaited them. The first number on the menu was a vaudeville stunt. Mesdames Van Tomme, Stearns, Bernard and Jordan.

If laughing promotes digestion, this accounts for the first measurements not checking with those after dinner. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Valentine Van Tomme, on Thursday afternoon, May 20th at 7 o'clock sharp.

Willing Oak Leaves Sewing Club

Two very successful meetings of the West Oak Lawn Sewing Project club have been conducted by the leaders, Mrs. Marie Congdon and Mrs. C. N. Strong. The first meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Julia Britton on March 18th with 15 members present. It was decided to elect a president and a secretary to assist in conducting future meetings. Mrs. H. C. Nubbe was chosen to preside and Mrs. Edward A. Nelson to act as secretary. This demonstration included the cleaning and oiling of a sewing machine, use of all attachments and short cuts without the use of these attachments.

The second meeting was at the home of Mrs. George McKay on April 18th with 12 members present. The work demonstrated was pattern cutting and fitting, plackets and neck finishes.

Mrs. Britton and Mrs. McKay deserve a lot of credit for the success of these meetings. Both served a delicious luncheon in true hospitable style, contributing greatly to the day's enjoyment.

Each member is well pleased with the results these demonstrations are bringing and appreciate the efforts made by County Agent E. G. Roth in organizing Crow Wing county for this sewing project work.

The two leaders of the club have proved to be capable, conscientious women, thoroughly mastering the subjects brought up at the county demonstrations, and then by the aid of neat, well-made samples presenting these lessons to the rest of the club members in an interesting and easily understood manner.

After some discussion the club adopted as its name "The Willing Oak Leaves Club." The next meeting will take place Thursday, May 20th with Mrs. A. E. Roxburg as hostess. All members are requested to be present.

JESSE BRITTON HOME BURNED

Sparks From Chimney Believed to Have Set Fire to Farm Home

DAMAGE ABOUT $1,500

Insurance Covered $600 of Loss.
No One Home at Time of Fire

The home of Jesse Britton at Long Lake was burned to the ground Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock when it is believed, sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof. The house and all contents was completely destroyed. Damage is estimated at about $1,500, insurance covering $600 of the loss.

There was no one at home at the time the fire broke out, the family being away for the day. Neighbors noticed the fire only after it had gained such headway that they were powerless in saving any of it.

Mrs. Britton's father, C. E. Wheeler, has given them a house but until the time when the house can be fixed the Britton family are living in a tent near the remains of what was once a nice home.

The neighbors have been kind in contributing clothing and household utensils so that the family will not want for the present.

MUSICAL CLUB SATURDAY SESSION

Social Committee Showered With Praise For Attractive
Tables

REFRESHMENTS DELICIOUS

Reports Given Were Brief and Full of Absorbing
Interest

In everything but attendance, the social meeting of the Musical club at the Chamber of Commerce on last Saturday afternoon was a thoroughly successful affair. The social committee deserve great credit for setting one of the most attractive tables ever seen in Brainerd. Decorated with an exquisite luncheon set, rich silver service, and four tall candles, two of which matched the lavender sweet peas and two the roses in the silver basket in the center, the table alone was worth coming to see. And it held refreshments as acceptable to the palate as its decorations were to the eye.

The reports were brief and full of interest. They showed that the club has been active along social and child-welfare lines, in Americanization work, charitable work, public health work and in contributing to the public library.

This year, the club has undertaken to compete in the choral contest which will be held at the district meeting in Ironton May 14th and 15th. The chorus of ladies is under the direction of Miss Effie Oexler.

The president, Mrs. D. E. Whitney, who presided with her usual charm of manner, announced that a Brainerd girl, Miss Katherine Nelson, had won a prize in the Historical Essay contest of the State Federation. Miss Nelson's essay was based on the diary of her grandfather—Mr. Rollins, who ran a steamboat between St. Cloud and St. Anthony Falls (now Minneapolis).

The report of the secretary correctly stated that, with the exception of the home talent program, every meeting had been an "Artist Recital." According to the agreement with Harry Culbertson, the board was to choose the artists—eight of them—and allow Mr. Culbertson to use the talent nearest to Brainerd at the time, thus making it possible to secure real artists for every program. This has been such an acceptable arrangement that the same plan is to be followed next year. So, instead of having two or three artists during the year, with just ordinary talent at the regular meetings, each meeting of the Musical club will be an artist recital. If you don't understand how the club can furnish eight artists for the small membership fee of three dollars and remain solvent, neither does anybody else. Of course one reason is because of Brainerd's fortunate location in the center of the state, which compels artists to go near or through our city in keeping their other engagements. That is how it happens that we are to close the season with an artist whose price would be entirely beyond us under any other circumstances. Next Sunday, April 25, Brainerd music lovers will have an opportunity to hear a real prima donna of Russian grand opera, Mme. Ina Bourskaya. Her company came to this country in 1921 and Mme. Bourskaya created such a sensation that she was simultaneously engaged by the Metropolitan and the Chicago grand opera companies. Mr. Culbertson has only a few weeks of her time, after the regular opera season. He is particularly generous to Brainerd because, on account of the storm, Belle Forbes Cutter was unable to keep her engagement on March 17.

The treasurer's report, given Saturday afternoon, sounded good—better than it will after Mme. Bourskaya receives her check—but the club will still be on the right side of the ledger.

Besides these interesting reports and eye and palate feasts, the evening was wholly satisfied with the blending of the voices of A. C. Mraz and Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg in song, accompanied by Mildred Skauge, and by the rendition of two piano numbers by Miss Mildred O'Brien.

Before the meeting closed, the secretary was instructed to write the directors of the Chamber of Commerce a note of thanks for their generosity in making these delightful social meetings possible.

"HAY CREEK RIPPLES"

Sewing Club Met at the Home of Mrs. John Tanges on Wednesday

The Hay Creek Ripples sewing club met at the home of Mrs. John Tanges, Wednesday, April 14, at 2 o'clock. Cutting and fitting patterns and the making of the different plackets were demonstrated by the leaders most efficiently.

Twelve members were present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Hellen, the date to be decided later.

Luncheon was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

The new restaurant stand at 518 Laurel street now under renovation for Ed. Hewitt received its first caller at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the form of a Buick coach which without any formalities came in through the front glass window. The car was driven by Mrs. Albracht, of Backus.

The accident happened it is believed when Mrs. Albracht who had the car parked in front of the store started the motor while the car was in gear. The car lurched forward with the result that it crashed through the plate glass window.

The matter was reported to the Brainerd police department. The building is owned by Jens Molstad.

Sykes and Co. in a novelty fancy bicycle riding act are the headliners on the vaudeville bill Tuesday night at the New Park theatre. Two men and a woman take part in the act and perform a wide variety of feats on bicycle and unicycles. George Hunter, in "The Evangelist of Jay," the second act on the bill is a humorist, full of pep who springs a new line of jokes for the audience. Hunter has been nicknamed the Al Jolson, of vaudeville in songs, comedy and whistling.

"Street and Screen Snapshots" a character singing comedy act, presents Ralph J. Riekus, delineator of characters of both stage and screen. His impression of Lon Chaney as he appeared in the Hunchback of Notre Dame is considered a master piece of makeup.

"Bits of Skill and Humor" is a comedy juggling—novelty, Wright and Vivian playing opposite. The fourth act is interspersed with talk, acrobatics, and contortions which

CAUTIOUS DEALING IN STOCKS

New York, April 19.—(UP)—Stocks showed no disposition in the opening session of the week to break away from the narrow trading range in which they recently have been fluctuating. Several attempts were made to rally the general list by running in the shorts in General Electric and General Motors.

However, these efforts were checked by cold water thrown by Judge Gary at the annual meeting of the steel corporation on the hopes of some immediate increase in the returns to common shareholders and by the action of Hudson Motor Co. in cutting down its daily production to 900 cars from 1500 cars owing to unfavorable weather conditions.

These factors caused considerable selling on Hudson and Steel which spread through the whole industrial list in the afternoon, wiping out the earlier recoveries.

Golf Played in Ireland
Three Centuries Ago

Golf was played in Ireland 300 years ago, according to a discovery made by Joseph R. Fisher, member of the boundary commission. He has unearthed records which show that Lord Montgomery, or John, Haigh as he was then, was granted land by King James near where the famous Newmarket links now are.

Montgomery gave a site for a school on this land and records show that he allotted sufficient space for schools to "play at golf."

The school and links disappeared during the troubled years of the Civil war and rebellion, in the latter half of the Seventeenth century.

Golfer Archie Compston
Stays in United States

Archie Compston, the greatest golfer Europe has produced in years, has decided to remain in America as a playing professional at a club in the East. The British champion has tentatively accepted terms for a summer position in New York, with the provision that he be permitted to return to England to compete for the British open championship.

Compston is assured of a post in Florida next winter. He is here with Arnold Massy, French open title holder, for a series of international matches.

Uses of Drudgery

Drudgery is as necessary to call out the treasures of the mind as harrowing and planting, those of the earth.—Margaret Fuller.

SEEK TO GIVE
COAST GUARD
RIGHT OF SEARCH

Washington, April 19.—(UP)—Legislation to permit the coast guard to search American vessels anywhere for contraband wares, chiefly liquor and drugs, was recommended to congress today by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews. His proposal was part of a bill which he claimed would end liquor smuggling, prevent the illegal entry of aliens and the "flow" of booze and narcotics into the United States.

Andrews' contraband wares suggestion was made in order to have other countries aid in the fight against this type of criminal. He urged that a law be passed stopping the importation of contraband wares into foreign countries that prohibit the exportation to the United States of goods and merchandise illegal in this country.

Congress also was asked to give customs collectors authority to refuse boats known as rum runners operating numbers. The dry district asked that a statute be passed permitting the government to hold all seized smuggling ships, without allowing them to be freed on bond. Meantime, it was announced that the prohibition unit had secured 188 old Liberty motors from the war department and negotiated a trade with Gar Wood, Detroit speed boat king, for a fleet of speed launches to patrol the coast lines. Congress was asked to approve the transaction.

Probable Prejudice

The death of "Abc" Hummel in London reminded a New York lawyer of a story.

"Hummel," he said, "told a story about a man who was haled into court on the charge of keeping a vicious dog. The man denied the charge, and when the first witness was called against him he sprang to his feet in a fury.

"That guy can't testify," he yelled. "Don't let that guy testify, judge. He's prejudiced."

"How do you know he's prejudiced?" said the judge.

"He's prejudiced, sure," said the man. "The dog bit him."

Useless Treasure

A father, worn out with age and infirmities and deprived, by his weakness and want of health, of the common society of men, wrongs himself and his, to rake together a great mass of useless treasure. He has lived long enough, if he be wise, to have a mind to strip himself to go to bed; to that his very shirt, I confess, but to that and a good warm nightgown. The remaining pomps, of which he has no further use, he ought voluntarily to surrender to those to whom by the order of nature they belong.—Montaigne.
